

Biography
Adept Technology, Inc.

John Dulchinos
President and Chief Operating Officer

John Dulchinos was promoted to president and chief operating officer of Adept in June 2007. Prior to that he held various positions within Adept including vice president of global sales and marketing, vice president of robotics, vice president of worldwide sales, vice president of North American Sales, and director of OEM business. He joined Adept in October 1987 as a regional sales engineer. Mr. Dulchinos is an active member of the robotics industry, currently serving on the board of directors of the Robotics Industry Association as well as having served on the Assembly Technology Expo advisory board from 2003 to 2005. Mr. Dulchinos holds both bachelors and masters degrees in mechanical engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute with a concentration in robotics.